Privacy and Confidentiality Agreement

As part of your volunteer experience with the Bridgewater Office of Elder Affairs you will have access to private information about people who use our services. Massachusetts General Law and the Council on Aging protect a participant's right to privacy. Honor the confidentiality of your position by being careful to protect and respect all information you see or hear.

You may talk about your job and about the senior center or program in general, however, you need to take care not to divulge private or identifying information about the participants. If you have specific concerns or questions, please speak to one of our staff.

Assurance of confidentiality is vital to the integrity of the experience people have with the Bridgewater Council on Aging and Senior Center. As a volunteer, I understand a participant's right to privacy. I agree to honor this right and keep information about a participant's right confidential.
